UL CONNECTIONS

We believe that each moment we are together matters and that each conversation and meaningful connection has the potential to begin a new legacy. In the world today, human togetherness and a sense of belonging and connection to nature are more important than ever.

GOAL 2

SERVE UP A POSITIVE

MISSION

DELIVER ON OUR

TO LIFE

We care

Sustainability is at the core of our strategy and we're truly committed to cheer a sustainable future. As well as setting ourselves ambitious targets on sustainability, Asahi Europe & International have accelerated our efforts to make actionable change across our business and our wider value chain.

Our roadmap to CO₂ neutrality

Goals and Commitments

By 2030

We aim to become carbon neutral within our breweries and work with partners to cut our carbon footprint across the whole supply chain by 30%

We plan to maintain and improve best-in-class water consumption in our breweries, use only packaging that is fully circular, and source ingredients in a sustainable way

We are committed to growing the share of non-alcoholic products in our portfolio to 20%, providing more choice to consumers

LEGACY 2030

In addition

- 1 By 2050 we will become carbon neutral across our entire value chain
- 2 To grow and foster partnerships across the supply chain to reduce Scope 3 emissions by 30% by 2030
- 3 We are a member of RE100, Race to Zero, WFA Planet Pledge, Consumer Goods Forum, Brewers of Europe, Science Based Targets 1.5 and EU Code of Conduct.

Progress on our sustainability journey

Renewable Energy

Our breweries will be carbon neutral by 2030. Alongside this we are engaging suppliers and partners to reduce the carbon emissions of our products across the whole supply chain by 30% over the same period. Our ultimate goal is to be carbon neutral across our supply chain by 2050.

To achieve these goals, we're focusing on green sources of energy. And that's why, by 2025, 100% of the electrical energy that we use in our breweries will come from renewable sources.

- Already In Italy, the Netherlands, Poland and Romania, 100% of electricity used in our breweries comes from renewable sources.
- Our brewery in the Netherlands uses 100% clean heat

Packaging

Packaging is essential to ensure the highest quality of beer for consumers. We want to create a future in which all our products are sold in fully circular packaging. Almost half of the beer we brew today is already sold in reusable packaging - be it returnable bottles or on tap in pubs. But our work doesn't stop there.

- In the Netherlands, AEI has introduced plastic free patented top-clip packaging for can multipacks, which is made from cardboard

- In Czechia and Slovakia AEI has discontinued PET plastic bottles entirely and replaced plastic and aluminum foil labels with 100% recyclable paper labels
- For more information on sustainability and to enable traceability from field to the bottle, AEI added QR codes on Birra Peroni bottles in Italy

By the year 2030, our ambition is that 100% of the packaging we use is reusable or recyclable.

We value Water

Water is absolutely essential in production of our beers. We use 40% less now compared to a decade ago. Between 2010-2020, we almost halved our water consumption thanks to new technologies and operational efficiency.

We source our ingredients responsibly

To brew a perfect beer means we need to use only the best ingredients. At our breweries we pay extraordinary attention to the selection of individual ingredients, taking extreme care to source locally as often as possible.

- 100% of the barley we use in Czechia, Slovakia and Italy is sourced locally, most of it directly from farmers
- In Italy, Campus Peroni provides a barley growing system that enhances quality and sustainability while fostering innovation, so that brewers can continue making 100% malt beer in the future
- AEI has launched a new project in Czechia together with Microsoft to help hop growers address climate change

Our Commitment to Diversity, Equity & Inclusion

We are determined to create a business that is as diverse as the world around us, reflecting the communities we reach and the people we serve.

We are committed to nurturing a workplace where we celebrate and respect difference, and support everyone's freedom to be their true selves - at work, at home, in public. Being courageous in your individuality, knowing that you have the same opportunity for happiness, fun, and success, whoever you are and whatever your circumstances.

You can belong without having to conform, so have the freedom to just be you - and shine as you are.

As a company, we are committed to:

- 1 Creating an inclusive culture where everyone can belong, encouraging leaders to create diverse inclusive high performance teams.
- 2 Improving diversity, with an immediate focus on gender balance and aim of achieving gender parity at management and senior executive levels by 2030.
- 3 Actively supporting women and employees from diverse backgrounds in their growth and development for career-mobility and progression of high potential talents.
- 4 Enhancing organization wide equity at every stage of the employee journey.
- 5 Providing more flexible-working practices and policies, with role models in senior positions with families, demonstrating success does not mean compromising on work life balance.
- 6 Encouraging leaders to prioritize health & wellbeing, focusing on mental, physical and social wellbeing, to ensure an inviting, safe and thriving modern workplace.

Our Pride

We are the custodians of some of the most admired and popular beer brands in the world, be they globally recognized or local favorites. In all our breweries, we produce drinks we are proud of. Which brands please your taste buds?

In Rome, 1963, Bira Peroni first brewed what was to become their greatest and most famous export: Peroni Nastro Azzurro. Created to reflect the emergence of Italian luxury in fashion and design, it was designed with the sharp, sophisticated beer drinker in mind. Peroni Nastro Azzurro is gently brewed to give an intensely crisp, refreshing taste with that unmistakable touch of Italian style visibly demonstrated by the light prosecco-style colour. In 2022, Peroni Nastro Azzurro 0,0% was launched to bring the authentic and unique PNA taste in a non-alcoholic variant.

Asahi Super Dry was spectacularly launched in 1987 and quickly became Japan's No.1 beer where it remains today. We are proud that our innovative brand has become a global icon of progressive Japan. SUPERDRY introduced a new style of beer to Japan and perfectly describes how our authentic Japanese beer is dry and crisp with a quick, clean finish. And as well as quenching your thirst, it also prepares your palate for what comes next.

Pilsner Urquell is the world's first pilsner, brewed the original way in the same brewery using the same recipe for 180 years. Today, we still use traditional methods, like triple decoction and parallel brewing in wooden lagging barrels to achieve its exquisite taste. Pilsner Urquell's signature flavour balances sweetness from the triple-decocted malt, and bitterness from our Saaz hops. A true icon of beer.

Grolsch Premium Pilsner means enjoying a lager beer with a full flavor. Brewed with more than 400 years of tradition behind it. We still use the classic method of low fermentation, carefully selected raw materials and a natural maturation. With our Premium Pilsner, our aim is to deliver you a drinking experience that is both refreshing and substantial. A beer with full flavour, to be enjoyed with friends. You taste the craftsmanship in every glass.

Kozel Premium is the most popular Czech beer in the world. Kozel Premium is made with three selected malts and the aromatic Czech hop Premiant for a well-balanced taste, welcome bitterness and full body. Kozel Dark is made with specialty malts for a bitterly rich but incredibly drinkable experience at less than 4% ABV.

Places behind the beer

We run 19 production facilities in 8 countries across Europe. The values linking them together are tradition and technology. In all our breweries, we are proud of where we've come from and we apply science, technology and passion towards creating a better future.

Committed to responsible drinking

Our beers bring pleasure and enjoyment to people all over the world. We want our great brands to be a pleasant part of our consumers' lives, which is why we strongly advocate a responsible approach to the promotion and consumption of our products.

We are passionate about creating quality products that our consumers can enjoy responsibly.

What we are doing to make a difference:

1 We comply with all local, national and international laws and regulations relating to the development, marketing and sale of alcoholic beverages.

2 We follow company and industry-wide ethical codes when promoting and selling our products, going far beyond the legislative obligations placed upon us.

3 We engage our employees, who act as role models and, as such, are required to abide by internal rules on consumption of alcoholic beverages both during and outside their working hours.

4 We offer a wide range of either non-alcoholic variants of our alcoholic brands or unique non-alcoholic beer-inspired brands, so that people have more choice while still enjoying a great taste experience.

5 We contribute effectively to third-party efforts to advance research into the health, social and economic aspects of alcohol consumption, as well as solutions to irresponsible drinking of alcohol.

6 We run a range of prevention campaigns that support responsible drinking, tackling in particular the most pressing issues. These include underage drinking, binge drinking, driving under the influence of alcohol and drinking during pregnancy or while breastfeeding.

7 We are accelerating efforts to tackle underage drinking through IARD (International Alliance for Responsible Drinking), paying special attention to digital channels and platforms where we follow the highest industry standards of responsible communication to not expose our products to minors while embedding moderation in consumption.

Our commitments

Globally

- We are working intensely towards fulfilling the Beer, Wine and Spirits Producers' Commitment to Reduce Harmful Drinking

In Europe

- We monitor the airing times of our commercials.

Milling

In the brew house, different types of malt are crushed together to break up the grain kernels in order to extract fermentable sugars, producing a milled product called grist.

Water Preparation

The presence of minerals is critically important to the final flavour. Soft water with low mineral levels is ideal for pilsner-style lagers. When brewing ales, it is best to have water with high levels of sulphates, calcium and other ions.

Mashing

The grist is then transferred to a mash tun, where it is mixed with heated water. The process uses natural enzymes in the malt to break the malt's starch down into sugars.

How we brew

Maturing

The fermented beer is transferred to the maturing tanks, where the beer settles and any sediment drops to the bottom. Maturation can take several weeks. This is also the time when the brewmaster's carefully crafted flavours and aromas develop.

Boiling

The mash is then pumped into the lauter tun, where a sweet liquid (known as wort) is separated from the grain husks. The wort is brought to a controlled boil before the hops are added.

Depending on the type of beer, the wort may be boiled up to three times.

Cooling

After boiling, the wort is transferred to a whirlpool where any malt or hop particles are removed to leave a liquid that is ready to be cooled and fermented.

Fermenting

As the fermenter is filled, yeast is added. The yeast consumes the sugars in the wort and produces alcohol, flavour and carbon dioxide.

Filtering

The beer is filtered in order to remove all solid particles. The result is a crystal clear, brilliant and dazzling beer.

Serving

Temperature, glassware, speed and angle of serve vary depending on the beer, but are all crucial to the perfect serving. Great tapsters take pride in delivering the perfect pour every time.
